

What you need to know: an update on recent land acquisition and compensation cases

The Victorian Government Solicitor's Office invites you to attend a lunchtime seminar as part of the Land Acquisition and Compensation Seminar Series.

In this seminar we will examine some general themes emerging from recent planning and land acquisition compensation cases. We'll take you through some interesting and notable cases from the last two years to consider:

- Compensation principles
- Part 5 compensation matters
- Process and procedure under the LAC Act

This session qualifies as 1 CPD unit, Substantive Law.

Date	Tuesday 14 August 2018
Time	12:30pm - 2:00pm (lunch provided)
Venue	Room 8, Level 27 121 Exhibition Street, Melbourne (Please collect visitor pass from lobby reception)
CPD	1 unit, Substantive Law
Register	marketing.team@vgso.vic.gov.au 9947 1446

Natasha Maugeret
Managing Principal Solicitor

Natasha leads the Land Acquisition, Planning and Environment team at the VGSO and has particular expertise in land acquisition, compensation and valuation matters. She regularly advises acquiring authorities on land acquisition powers, process and procedure for infrastructure and other major projects.

Mark Egan
Principal Solicitor

Mark has particular expertise in assisting government with statutory approvals and powers in the delivery of government projects. Mark regularly assists authorities with varied and complex compulsory acquisition and land compensation issues, in dealing with planning, environment and heritage issues.

Jennifer Gould
Senior Solicitor

Jennifer has expertise in compulsory land acquisition and compensation law, and assists government clients with resolving disputes and running litigation related to public infrastructure projects. Jennifer regularly conducts merits review matters in VCAT.

Lidija Bujanovic
Solicitor

Lidija practices in government and administrative law, primarily providing litigation and advice services in the areas of compulsory land acquisition and compensation law, and planning and environment law. She has worked on a broad range of advice and litigation matters, relating to compensation and judicial review.